MOU with Red Dot Foundation

The Red Dot Foundation Group works at the intersection of gender, technology, communication, data and urban planning. SafeCity is its flagship program. Through this platform, personal stories of sexual harassment and abuse in public spaces are crowdsourced within a single window. This data which is being submitted may be anonymous, gets aggregated as hot spots of a map, indicating trends at a local level. The idea behind the compilation of this data, is for individuals, local communities and local administrations to identify areas and factors which may be unsafe (especially for women), and then to work on strategies for solutions.

Sophia College (Autonomous) was selected by the Red Dot Foundation to collaborate on a 3-day workshop for Youth Leaders. This was so that the students could better understand the policies and laws associated with respect to Sexual Harassment, which would thereby allow them to create and lead through better awareness within their campus. The workshop took place in One IndiaBulls Centre, in Lower Parel, and involved multiple sessions related to the POCSO (Prevention of Children from Sexual Offenses) Act, POSH (Prevention of Sexual Harassment) Act and its legislature, use of technology on creating safe public spaces, awareness and precautions on cyber-crime, and techniques on basic self-defense. The students were also introduced to the Safe City App. They were given a brief on how to file complaints and use the app to learn more about the safety of the area they were visiting.

Based on what they learnt in the three day workshop, students conducted smaller sessions within the college, to explain and create larger awareness on the issue. Sessions were conducted for students from various years, to educate them on the Acts and its measures, so that they could have greater civic sense and responsibility. At the end of these sessions, the audience was also shown how to use the Safe City App, and why it would be beneficial to use them. The target audience for most of these sessions were limited to 30 students, as the students felt adhering to a smaller crowd would allow them to have better connect with their audience.
