

Beyond Margins

ABOUT US

The first of its kind, Beyond Margins is an editorial venture under Sophia College (Autonomous), Mumbai. We have created Beyond Margins as an open website and journal for undergraduates around India to share knowledge and collaborate on developing smart dialogue, and different perspectives in the field of economics.

Beyond Margins

OUR VISION

The idea of creating Beyond Margins stems from the desire to push the boundaries of Economics and establish a space for discourse which will help cultivate students' interests and reinforce the importance of the discipline in everyday life without the pressure of being marked.

Through the peer-reviewed Annual Journal we hope to encourage undergraduate students to hone their research and writing skills which will further help their academic career.
