A brief report of the event: On 18 November 2024, the NSS unit of Sophia college for women in collaboration with 185 Malabar Hill Constituency organized a street play under Electoral Literacy Club activities. There was a voter awareness play from 11:00 am to 11:30 am. The play was performed near Babulnath temple. This streetplay had been performed by the volunteers before, but due to the high impact on the audience, the election officer of 185 Malabar Hill- Ms. Naina Pawar and other officers desired for the street play to be performed again, therefore it was performed in front of Babulnath Temple where it gathered a large audience.

The play was also performed on campus in front of principal Dr.Anagha Tendulkar Patil, Sister Rosa and IAS Officer Jayashree Bhoj's daughter Ms. Sharanya, had also volunteered in the street play. The main purpose of performing the play in college was to create an impact on the students, who form the young population of voters.

The play explores the contradiction of India being the largest democracy while many citizens hesitate to vote. It highlights the desire for change but also the reluctance to participate in that change, stressing the need for more awareness about the importance of voting. Ultimately, the play showed how voting impacts our government and empowers citizens to shape their own futures. The volunteers then explained the procedures to be followed to register for voter ID card. The volunteered worked tirelessly and the play has been performed thrice successfully.

We express our sincere gratitude to our principal Dr.Anagha Tendulkar Patil for granting us permissions for the same and showing their support; and to our PO Dr.Vaishali Pachunde for their efforts to make this event possible.

A video dedicated to the street play has also been posted by the Official Account for 185- Malbar Hill Assembly Constituency - @ero_185_malbar_hill under the hashtags #votekarmumbaikar
